Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:40

To be honest, this walk was brutal. It was hot and it was humid. Not Florida or Houston humid, but humid for Pasadena. But, despite that we saw some good birds, the Oak Titmouse and American Robin to name two. We only recorded 15 species, which was 2.6 below the prediction and a good ways away from the maximum for the week of 26. Did I say it was hot? It was hot. We were joined by Eric Christian, who was here from the East Coast to attend a meeting. Eric's walks go back a long way. He was the 16th walker and his first walk was on 2/28/1994. Except for me, his span of walks is longer than anyone else's. So, it was good to have him along and to extend that streak. Looking for cooler weather next week.
