Walk lasted between 12:00 and 13:59

We had another down week, much like two weeks ago. We only got 17 species, 5.1 below the prediction. Looking at the list, I can't think of much to brag about. None of us got in any fist fights, so that was a positive. Chris couldn't make the walk, but she did show up at the final stop, the used-to-be-called Mallard Pond, but of course no Mallard for a long time. She was happy not to be listed as a participant on this subpar walk. I did not blame her.
